Estray Bovine Aspires to Aesthetic Learning

JOSHUA TREE — An estray steer, which may be aspiring to delve into the mysteries of oriental philosophy, or considers itself a re-incarnated spirit attempting to find its way back through the meditation rooms of the Institute of Mental-physics made a direct approach to the subject Thursday evening via a large plate-glass window in the "Caravanserie."

The "Caravanserie" is the main building at the Institute of Mental-Physics, Dr. E. J. Dingle's desert branch of the Los Angeles church, located mid-way between Joshua Tree and Yucca Valley on Baseline Highway. This magnificent building, designed by Frank Lloyd Wright, Jr., was erected at the cost of many thousands of dollars and is fabulously decorated with rare oriental furnishings. It was through an expensive plate-glass window of this building that our eager-for-learning bovine made its transubstantiation (okay, you don't know what it means, either.)

Bill Weber, property superintendent, at the Institute of Mental-Physics, reported that the animal had been grazing on shrubbery near the building as later inspection revealed. The first indication of its presence was the crash of window glass. The steer returned again Friday night, possibly compelled by some strong spiritual urge, or the fact that the grass is greener around the "Caravanserie." Damage was estimated at over three hundred dollars.

PTA Election Important

YUCCA VALLEY — The most important meeting of the PTA this year will be held Wed. at 8 p.m. in the Yucca Valley School house for election of officers for the coming year. Since these officers will serve for the new Yucca Valley Consolidated School District and will represent Morongo Valley, Pioneertown, Yucca Valley, Joshua Tree, and Sunfair. It is important that all members of the PTA in these communities be present to elect their representatives.

The Battle of The Bottle

TWENTYNINE PALMS — A casual glance around the valley at most anyone's yard gives the impression that we at one time underwent a major bombing raid. However, those fin-less bomb-resembling objects aren't duds from aerial warfare, but used liquid, petroleum gas bottles, many of which have been discarded.

In a recent article we passed on to our readers a protest by local butane users concerning the high price being paid for this gas. Well, here's the reason it isn't cheap: In the first place those discarded containers is one reason for high cost gas. And how often do you let your tank run dry before you call the gas man? An extra trip costs money. In small containers it comes high, too. You can buy it for as low as 17½¢ a gallon in the big tank, but of course if you'd rather buy gas in small tanks at higher price per gallon, that's your business.

Not too long ago a man in a nearby mountain area became incensed at his gas service and started his own company. He is selling gas at a lower price more for spite than for profit and naturally his former gas man, and now competitor has been forced out.

Then there is another angle; summer weather. That's like winter for the ice-man. An established company has to keep service men on the pay-roll the year-round, or break in new crews each year. And that really ups the price of gas.

Dead Man's Curve Flirting with Death

MORONGO VALLEY — March 5th was the date of the last accident on Dead Man's Curve in which two sailors riding on a motorcycle collided with an auto and received major injuries, according to the State Highway Patrol reports.

With the increase in traffic to this area many more accidents are likely to occur. The Yucca Valley Legion Post has decided to take some official action on the matter of eliminating this dangerous, blind curve. While the Legion is waiting for the usual "red tape" and official action may we suggest erecting a large warning sign on the curve, decorated with appropriate skull and cross bones! We will accept donations of a few boards, nails and paint for this sign and arrange for its erection. Why sit back and holler for official action that will be months in arriving! Someone may be killed again before the highway department can make changes. We don't offer this action as a substitute for major corrections, but only as a temporary safety measure.

U.S. Mail Arrives Safely in Pioneertown Bandit Stops Carrier

PIONEERTOWN — Pioneertown's first sack of official mail almost didn't arrive last Thursday when the newly appointed mail carrier, "Shorty" Creswell was waylaid and held up at gun point by a bandit sketchily identified as "Zeke The Rustler," notorious hoss thief around Pioneertown. "Shorty" was delivering Pioneertown's first sack of mail to the new post office, located in the Pioneer Bowl building, when he was overtaken by the bandit.

As the mail robber was forcing "Shorty" to open the sack, a posse of official greeters who were riding to meet the new mail carrier, arrived on the scene. However, the bandit was clubbed from behind by "Kactus Kate" (widow of "Rattlesnake Pete") who had suddenly appeared on her horse, "Sleepy" from behind a rocky ridge. The bandit, was partially stunned by the blow, but was able to make his get-a-way by riding through the posse and throwing them into confusion.

You Can't Have Your Cake and Eat It, Too. Tsk! Tsk!

JOSHUA TREE — The pitiful efforts of the Banning Chamber of Commerce to procure a turtle for the Fifth Annual Turtle Sweep-Stake Races at Joshua Tree in May all but bring tears to the eyes of the Turtle Race Publicity Committee of Joshua Tree.

Last week a monstrous entrant was purchased by Frank Moulton of the Shell Service and donated to the Chamber of Commerce, but alas and alac that short-sighted body of astute business men consumed it with their dessert at a Chamber luncheon. The turtle "Old Mac" was a chocolate cake baked by Old Mac Donald's Farm.

Since the Banning Chamber of Commerce seems to lack the official influence to acquire a turtle we're appealing to the generosity of local citizens to donate to the cause. And anyhow any turtle raised in the vicinity of Banning would doubtless lack the necessary vitality to pass the try-outs at the Fifth Annual Turtle Sweep-Stake Races at Joshua Tree.

Baritone Has Exceptionally Fine Voice

It's an Ill Wind

TWENTYNINE PALMS—Burke Tolstrup, baritone of Tujunga, California, is one of our young, up-and-coming singers who is gaining acclaim for his fine vocal renditions. Mr. Tolstrup will be heard in concert at the Twentynine Palms Theatre, Saturday March 25th in company with Alice Friese, soprano and violinist, and several other fine artists.

This concert will be the first of a series of musical programs brought to the music lovers of the Twentynine Palms Theatre through the efforts of the Community Association of Joshua Tree, and the cooperation of Mr. and Mrs. Adger Hutchinson.

Tickets may be purchased in Morongo Valley from Vera Martin, in Yucca Valley from Nelson's Grocery and the Corner Store, at the Crane Realty and the Joshua Tree Journal in Joshua Tree, from Kenny Drug, Stubb's and the Theatre in Twentynine Palms. The concert will be in two shows, the first at 7 p. m. and the second at 9 p. m. Reservations are not required, but tickets should be purchased early as the attendance will be limited to about six hundred.

School Board Election Set for May 19th

TWENTYNINE PALMS — School Board elections will be held in the following place on Friday, May 19th. Morongo Valley—Community Hall; Yucca Valley—School House; Joshua Tree — Sportsman's Club. This is a combined High School and Elementary School election.

Those who desire to declare themselves a candidate may make application by writing Howard C. Harmon, Box 843, 29 Palms. Applications must be returned not later than April 19th.

Referring to wind in the "desert" is a generalization that compares to paging John Smith in a crowded theatre, it covers a lot of territory, much more territory than the wind ever does. In a recent "blow" the wind was clocked at nearly one-hundred miles an hour near barstow, to the north, and about sixty-five near Palm Springs to the south. Our local instruments recorded thirty-two miles per hour at the height of the gale.

For some peculiar reason, due to the arrangement of our hills, possibly, we never get the full force of the wind when it tosses cars on highway 66 and boats near 101. So we feel quite smug when we hear radio reports of wind storms in the desert and gale warnings along the coast. However, we do get a bit irked when an early-morning radio news-broadcaster warns week-end motorists about the bad winds on the desert. To-day, Sunday March 19, 1950 is as perfect a day as we are used to having, but our news-caster says, "it's an ill wind". . . .

The moral is: we have the best climate in this-here-now desert, and don't let any mis-informed radio announcer scare you away from your week-end outing to the Joshua Monument Desert. The Ides of March are 'iding somewhere else as far as we're concerned. It's an ill wind that blows nobody good. We don't claim it.

"Cheaper by the Dozen"

We stand upon our copy desk and give three rousing cheers for the Federated Clubs of Joshua Tree for their publicity campaign which has been bringing responsive letters by the dozens, and people into the valley, this past month. Mr. Conlin who hobbled in on canes several weeks ago with arthritis is becoming a good side-walk superintendent, (we expect him soon to pick up a shovel.) A letter from Texas says "am not sending for a subscription; am on my way to Joshua Tree." Fred Gamerdinger keeps moving closer (got as far as Beaumont last time.) C. E. Rodenberger and wife Hazel moved all the way out, as did John and Myrtle Martin.

The Federated Clubs has been carrying on their letter writing and paper mailing campaign since last August and getting results. The Journal receives several inquiries a day about the various communities in the Basin and the health aspects here.

The work of the Federated Clubs of Joshua Tree should be an example for the other communities of the Basin to follow.

How many of you have joined the "Three Cent Club?" It only costs a three cent stamp to join. Just write a letter to the Joshua Journal and enclose the name and address of a friend; we'll do the rest with a sample copy of the Journal telling your friends about the healthiest climate in America.

Something besides editorial writing needs to be done about the speeding cars and trucks that pass through the business district of our communities without slowing down. It is difficult to change the attitude of city motorists who consider us as hick towns in spite of the broad thoroughfare they find. So far no bad accidents have occurred, but why wait? Stop signs are needed in Morongo Valley and Yucca Valley, but both local and county official action have been dragging for over two years. Why not just PUT the signs there and settle the argument before someone is killed? Who will donate a couple of posts and boards? We have the paint.

BY RUTH HALE

March is such a fickle month: this year it came in like a lamb and as the old saying goes it may go out like a Lion but we do know that real spring is almost here. Many fruit trees have bloomed and others are about to burst into blossom.

It might be a real help to tree growers, if each one of us would keep a chart as to the blooming time and leafing out time of our various fruit and ornamental trees and the setting time of the fruit as well as the harvest time. Because we do have a fairly long growing period here, fruit and ornamental trees and the setting time of the fruit as well as the harvest time. Because we do have a fairly long growing period here, fruit trees should do well. Then when we do have success with certain varieties we should share our knowledge with others. The trunks of young trees should be given a coating of tree white to protect the bark from sun-burn. A good recipe for this is: 2 quarts of processed or quick lime; 8 quarts of water; 1 tablespoon salt; chip off about 1/2 in. of bar of laundry soap; add one teaspoon of liquid glue. Stir lime into water and add other ingredients. After slaking, add more water to the desired consistency. It mustn't be too thick or it will peel from trees. This whitewash will stick and will last. Apply with a whitewash brush.

Economy in time and in water can be accomplished with the aid of a chart. For the watering program must be consistent and remember that one good deep irrigation is worth a dozen sprinklings.

The right exposure for various plants is quite important. Your bulb bed will be best suited to the east exposure where it gets the morning sun. Gladiolus may be planted at weekly intervals to insure flowers for many months. As these bulbs are susceptible to the thrip, it is a good idea to treat the ground or the corm.

A friend sent this Chinese saying to me: If you would be happy for three hours: Get drunk. If you would be happy for three days: Kill a pig and eat it. If you would be happy for three months: Get married. If you would be happy your whole long life: Become a GARDNER. Thanks, Geo.

Lowly Philosophy

By JUNE LeMERT PAXTON
SHE WAS JUST A BURRO

During our homesteading days here in the Valley we acquired Old Kate. I do not know just why we called her "Old Kate" because I doubt if, when she came to us, she was very old. At any rate she added interest to our animal-family and was useful, as well.

Many times we hitched her to a sled and went up into the hills to get our wood. She never seemed to mind dragging the load down through the sandwashes, while we ran along the side ready to retrieve any log that did not take well to the rough sledding.

Again we would commandeer Beck, a stray burro, and with the two of them ride in and out of the little canyons back of our cabin scouting for various types of stone that would be useful in making our new fireplace. When I was on her back, Old Kate could be stubborn. Without any warning she would unceremoniously plant her hoofs on a rock and, if we were going down hill, right over her head I would slide. She never apologized nor changed her ways!

Old Kate was just a burro; She can't be blamed too much. But what excuse have you and I When we react as such?

"REALITY" CHRISTIAN SCIENCE SERMON SUBJECT

The Golden Text of the Sunday Bible Lesson on "Reality" in all branches of The Mother Church, The First Church of Christ, Scientist, in Boston, is from Isaiah and reads: "Since the beginning of the world men by the ear, neither hath the eye seen, O God, beside thee, what he hath prepared for him that waiteth for him."

An account from Matthew reports that when Jesus "had called unto him his twelve disciples, he gave them power against unclean spirits, to cast them out, and to heal all manner of sickness and all manner of disease." Jesus directed them to "Go not into the way of the Gentiles, and into any city of the Samaritans enter ye not: But go rather to the lost sheep of the house of Israel. And as ye go, preach, saying, The Kingdom of heaven is at hand. Heal the sick, cleanse the lepers, raise the dead, cast out devils: freely ye have received, freely give."

"Casting out evil and fear enables truth to outweigh error," writes Mary Baker Eddy in "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures." She also declares, employ, and especially by the spirit. "By the truthful arguments you it of Truth and Love which you entertain, you will heal the sick."

Whitehorn Begins Modern Hotel

JOSHUA TREE—The Whitehorn Ranch development west of Joshua Tree which has been slowly building into one of the finest home and recreation projects anywhere in the desert began construction on a twenty-eight unit hotel this week. Meredith R. Willey, ranch manager, revealed that the big swimming pool was nearly completed and that grading by the Lafferty Bros. for the hotel site is finished.

The hotel will be built in two sections and the first units will house the dining room, kitchen, lounge, patio and manager's quarters in addition to individual units. The hotel will surround the swimming pool and afford privacy to its guests.

JOSHUA TREE — We are taking the liberty of passing along some of the very fine letters received from non-resident Joshua Tree property owners this past week:

"Enclosed please find $5.00 to help in a small way in your publicity campaign. I think it is an excellent idea — and the folders are very interesting. MRS. ERMA BISBEE."

"I am indeed sorry to have kept you waiting so long for my donation. I had intended to contribute from the start, but have had many, many other heavy obligations. Hope this $5.00 will help. HAROLD W. HART."

"Enclosed please find check for $1.00. I only wish it could be more so your work would be sure of at least enough to carry on, but circumstances prevent it. Hoping for continued success in your (our!) undertaking, JOHN H. WIKE."

"Here is my check for $5.00. Hope it will help a little toward your good work. Best of wishes for you all and all you are trying so to accomplish. MISS LOUIESA HOUSLEY."

Ambulance Assn.

This is to notify our members that the ambulance is back in service with a bigger and better motor! Again we want to express our appreciation to Mr. Johnson of Twentynine Palms for the excellent service rendered by his ambulance during the past week.

As published in last week's Journal, the ambulance will be driven only by regularly employed licensed chauffeurs. Kenneth L. Williams will be on duty during the daytime, Bud Lisby will be Night Driver and C. S. Woods, relief driver. This will enable the Association to have a driver on duty at all times, thus making it possible to render more prompt and efficient service. These drivers will also be coached in First Aid and oxygen administration by Dr. Dodson.

Persons authorized to call an ambulance need only phone the Joshua Tree telephone operator.

Our thanks, heartfelt, to the following — when the heard our ambulance needed extensive repairs, they rallied to the cause with cash donations:

Battle of Bottles

tane, or rock gas here are a few tips: Lease a big tank. If you use the small bottles, have two installed; when one is empty, SHUT OFF THE VALVE and open the other one; then call the gas man so he can bring another refill his next trip around. If you use a big tank, watch your pressure gauge, or if you smell garlic, your gas is low. One sure way to pay more for your gas is to order from one distributor, or toss aside his empty bottles and order more from another because you can't pay your bill with the first one.

Lower priced gas may some day be had if and when a natural gas line is installed. If competition meant lower prices you'd have them, because there are several competitive companies in the area. In the mean-time cooperation with your gas man is the best method for cheaper gas.

For centuries whenever the water supply of the Southwest Indians ran low, they would invoke their rain gods through the medium of colorful rain dances. The lack of authenticated records does not permit a scientific evaluation of the effectiveness of the rain dance as a means of producing rain. So when the California Electric Power Company found that a series of dry years had materially lowered its man-made reservoirs in the modern rainmakers

High Sierra, it searched for a more certain method to assure a source of power to turn its generators. The result was a less colorful but more dramatic method of creating rainfall — artificial nucleation of the clouds. For more than two years, a powerful P-38 has been engaged in cloud-seeding operations, using dry ice, with amazing results. Flying above 14,000-foot peaks, its crew has bombarded "reluctant" clouds and successfully pinpointed man-made storms into the Bishop Cups, an area only 5 miles wide and 20 miles long! Last winter "bonus" snowfall created a run-off above normal estimates of 6,500 acre feet of water — enough to generate electricity to serve the domestic and industrial needs of a city of 50,000 population for three months and its water supply for 225 days. It is significant that the idea for artificial cloud nucleation was first conceived in the research laboratories of General Electric and that the first long-range successful application of the principle was pioneered by California Electric. It is a demonstration of how the facilities of American free enterprise can be marshalled to solve the most complicated problems — even how to make rain!

A Country Wide Web of Wires

The telephone in your house is attached to a wire which is connected to a great network of metal threads, running to the far corners of the land—a vast web of wires.

When communities grow beyond established boundaries it is necessary to extend telephone lines in many directions and over long distances, to make this country-wide web of wires available for service.

During 1949 your telephone company spent more than $650,000 on outside construction work—setting poles, laying conduits, stringing wire, installing cable. In order to bring service to waiting applicants as quickly as possible, this work of extending outside facilities goes on day after day.

SAN BERNARDINO — I am happy to announce to the public my willingness to enter the campaign for District Attorney of San Bernardino County. I feel I have the experience and legal judgment, acquired through sixteen years of law practice, to conduct an efficient office. I hope to raise this office to a level comparable to any in the State and to administer its affairs and duties in a manner which will restore the confidence of the public.

The District Attorney's office in this County deals only with prosecution of criminal cases. It has no civil jurisdiction. I feel that I can bring to the office a fresh vigor and determination for service which is needed at this time, uninfluenced and unimpeded by any entangling alliances. The District Attorney cannot fully protect society against major crime, or assist in solving the problems of sex offenses and juvenile delinquency, unless he can exercise a complete and unfettered jurisdiction within his office. This office is also non-partisan and I would see that it remains so. I solicit your vote upon a promise that I am involved with no questionable political group or no illegal group particularly which could benefit from this office, and that I personally will work at the job.

Neff Motel Sold

JOSHUA TREE — Mr. John L. Duncan reported last week the sale of the Neff Motel to Mr. and Mrs. William J. Winter of Fullerton. They are planning extensive improvements on present buildings and may add a number of modern rental units.

Community Ass'n. History

The Community Association of Joshua Tree was formed about two years ago by the residents for the betterment and advancement of its civic affairs and projects. Any resident of Joshua is automatically a member, but voting privileges cost $1.00 per year per member. Among its current projects is the erection of a concrete block building on Park Boulevard to house the Valley's Ambulance, which serves the communities of Yucca Valley, Pioneertown, and Morongo, in addition to Joshua Tree. It is a beautiful, shiny, modern and complete ambulance to serve residents of these towns in their time of need, and to preserve it, keep it cleaner, and protect it from the elements, a very modest building has been started. Funds are needed to finish it, and for this reason the whole Valley has been solicited to attend the premiere of a group of artists belonging to the Sunland-Tujunga group of artists, which will be at the 29 Palms Theatre this coming Saturday evening, March 25. Two performances will be given, one at 7:00 P.M. and the other at 9:00 P.M. each one starting promptly at those hours. Everyone is assured of a seat, and transportation will be furnished those who do not have it available by getting in touch with Mildred

To Our Many Friends & Patrons

We wish to thank our many friends and customers for the splendid business they have given us throughout the past three years and sincerely hope they will continue to give their support to our successors, Mr. and Mrs. Boyce.

California Electric Power Co. Connects Smoke There's the $480,000 Substation Morongo Fire Dept.

According to Elmer M. Katzenstein, district manager of the California Electric Power Co. at Twentynine Palms, the new $480,000 Garnet substation was recently converted.

The original substation was built at the Garnet sits in 1938 and it is interesting to note that in the past 12 years, due to the tremendous growth of this resort and desert area, the load at the substation has increased approximately 10 times.

To cope with this growth and with the future of the area in mind, California Electric has added the $480,000 facilities, and now supply power to the Garnet substation over two 90,000-volt lines, both normally connected to the substation. In the event of trouble on either line, special relays determine the direction of the fault and trip only the line on which the trouble occurs, eliminating many line outages.

All circuits fed from the substation have automatic reclosing switches, which will further reduce outages and in addition have installed regulating transformers to keep the voltage constant to the customers.

The facilities that have been installed at the Garnet substation are capable of handling approximately a 75 per cent increase over the present demands.

Mr. Katzenstein said the company feels justified in making this expenditure to provide for anticipated future growth and to assure the area of metropolitan service.

Crane, Secretary of the Community Association, phone Joshua Tree 7431. Everyone is urged to attend for a pleasant evening out, and it is hoped that enough encouragement will be given to these talented and vivacious artists to have them come out again in the near future.

MORONGO VALLEY — The new Morongo Valley fire truck and volunteer fire department personnel had two work outs last week. The first call was to the city dump where someone had set the rubbish on fire. The second call was to a hill-side fire that started when a camper's bedding caught fire. Both fires were brought under control. Chief Freeman reported that his crew responded to the alarms very quickly.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Dear Sir:

I want to thank all the good people of Joshua Tree for their kindness shown through the sickness and death of my dear wife Martha. I never knew I had so many friends until trouble came . . . Martha Main was born in Green Co., Pa., Nov. 13, 1872 — died March 4, 1950; the mother of four, John Schwartz of Long Beach, Allene Fuller of Ithica, N. Y., Ralph Schwartz and Grace Manning of Puente, Calif.

MR. MAIN, Joshua Tree

Dear Ed. —

Believing entirely in the future of the southern part of the Mojave Desert from Morongo Valley to and through 29 Palms, the least I can do, as well as own property in Yucca Village, is to subscribe to the Joshua Journal.

In the future, I am hoping to see a High Desert Museum established in our part of the desert. Although we haven't the wealth to draw upon that Palm Springs offers to its Desert Museum, I somehow have all the faith in the world that we, of our area, have something much more important — yes, valuable, than what Palm Springs has to offer.

Time will prove that those who believe as you, and I, are right.

Looking forward to your paper, I am,

Very sincerely yours,

H. WILLIAM MOORE

Let's Keep It Clean

Both Joshua Tree and Morongo Valley are putting on a clean-up campaign this week and are seeking the cooperation of their citizens. There has been too much careless dumping of trash around the desert by irresponsible persons. In Joshua Tree a public notice will be posted containing the names of persons seen dumping their trash in places other than the city dump. Coyote Hole, one of our favorite picnic grounds is an unsightly mess, but picknickers are not the guilty parties.

Morongo Valley had a big clean-up parade Sunday and has been making a good showing in cleaning and beautifying up the place this week.

Credit Bureau of Twentynine Palms Expands Service

TWENTYNINE PALMS — At a breakfast meeting of the Credit Bureau of Twentynine palms in Patolie's last March 15th at 7:45 a.m. plans for expansion of the Credit Bureau program to include the whole of the Morongo Basin were outlined by Joseph P. Wasserburger, board member of the Credit Bureau.

The meeting, called by Bert King, Chairman of the Board of Governors of the Credit Bureau, was planned to bring to the attention of local business men the need and importance of a coordinated credit system for the entire Morongo Basin.

"There is a continual influx of new people into the Greater Morongo Basin. Each of the communities are growing and, as they grow, so shall the demand for credit. . . as a suggestion, we propose a Governor from each of the communities be elected by membership and, that they be authorized to adopt a set of by-laws governing operations of the Credit Bureau from the standpoint of policy being representative of the merchants in your respective communities," said Mr. Wasserburger.

HOW TO SOLVE THE SMOG PROBLEM

JOSHUA TREE — Mr. and Mrs. John H. Martin of Montebello have solved the coastal smog problem, they moved out to Joshua Tree. Mr. Martin formerly with the Los Angeles Railway and recently retired from Co-solidated Steel helped to build East L. A. from a "cow pasture" to one of the largest cities in the world, and now he's not too happy about it, at least he doesn't want to live there anymore. The Martins plan to build or buy here.

from the farmer. About 2 eggs per case spoiled in the unwashed and 13 per case in the washed eggs. That shows 6 times as much deterioration for washed eggs. This was the average of all 28 farms. On some farms where eggs were washed, 135 or more than one-third of the case, were spoiled after 6 months storage. The best egg therefore is the one that is produced and kept clean so that it does not need washing."

It is quite interesting to note the problems encountered by flatland poultry raisers. Up here in the high desert area, few of these problems exist, especially problems arising from too much dampness, which is the main reason for high cost in poultry raising. One local poultry raiser, Al Gillette, of Yucca Mesa reported today that he lost his first chicken yesterday in over three years of chicken raising. He just hasn't had any diseases. This, without a question, is one of the best poultry raising sections in the country.

Clean Eggs Problem With Flat-Land Poultry Raisers

SAN BERNARDINO — According to Joe Hertel, Farm Advisor for the Agriculture Extension Service of San Bernardino County, producing clean eggs during foggy or rainy weather is quite a problem with poultry raisers.

"During the foggy days the past few weeks when wires were dripping with dew from the hen cages and when floor litter became soggy, it was most difficult for poultrymen to produce clean eggs. It was during these days that Ralph Myers, County Egg Inspector and the writer, checked ranches in the poultry Cost Study relative to the per cent clean, light dirty, heavy dirty and cracked eggs. We also made the check on the per cent AA or A, or grade B eggs. Since this is more of a matter of breeding rather than management, it will be treated in a later article.

There was a very striking difference between the per cent of clean eggs produced on different ranches. On some farms less than half of the eggs produced were clean, while on others, over 90 per cent of all eggs were clean. In the cages, if the wire floors are brushed occasionally, the farms will produce a higher per cent of clean eggs. In the houses with poultry litter, cleanliness of the eggs is dependent on (a) the dryness of the floor litter and (b) the cleanliness and depth of the nesting material in the nest. Where the floor litter is sufficiently damp that clods of dirt hang to the toes of the hens, these are carried into the nest and will dirty the eggs. In such cases, more ventilation through the house or the addition of slaked lime to the litter, will help dry out the same.

In checks made by University Officials on 28 ranches last summer at Sacramento and Petaluma, washed eggs showed far greater spoilage than unwashed eggs. Eggs were oil treated and then placed 6 months in storage after purchase
